Mark is going to refine the desk statement.

On Ecology's letter, you should be able to see the comments Miranda gave Andrew, including clarifying the legal v. science issue (some of our disapprovals are for scientific gaps). It is not clear whether Ecology will make changes responsive to Miranda's comments.

Thanks Dave. I'm assuming Mark will take a first crack at editing the desk statement. As currently written, it seems a little inside baseball.

Re the Ecology letter, two things. Is it correct that our disapproval is more a legal vs scientific one? If we get an inquiry, I could see someone asking what that means so would be good to have a short answer ready. Are they open to edits?

These two documents don't conflict and neither undermines the other party. Mark said he will check-in with his Ecology communication counterpart and refine our desk statement to share with them. Let Mark and I know if you have comments on the attached draft desk statement.
